

Japanese Language Class

We have three sessions of Japanese classes every year. The first session starts in the middle of May, the second one is from September until December and the last class begins in January. Each session has ten lessons, including a small party, which is held at the end of the term. Before the party, students make little performances to show their study results..

Students are from various countries such as Brazil, Indonesia, China, Thailand, the Philippines, the United States and the U.K. Most of them are employees of companies, so they work during the day and study at nighttime. They are very eager to study Japanese and Japanese culture. Some students have taken Japanese Language Proficiency Test (Nihongo Noryoku Kentei) and passed.

Around twenty teachers take part in this activity. They are all volunteers. Teachers support students to learn Japanese and help them to get used to their life in Japan.

The classes are on Wednesdays from 7:30pm to 9:00pm at Log House. For those who are interested in learning Japanese, come and join us. Detailed schedules are available at the city hall.
